

Vandals Beware!

The Moravian Church in Little Horton has taken steps to stop recurring vandalism and more recently arson attacks.

The Neighbourhood Wardens have spent time door knocking on houses surrounding the church making local residents aware and asking them to be vigilant and report any anti-social behaviour. Police have been informed and suspects are being watched. 'We take these attacks very seriously' says Warden Dibbs Storey, 'and we are working with everyone concerned to make sure the culprits are caught.'

The Wardens also suggested some extra security measures to the church including installing some cameras. Although the church had discussed these measures before they had not really done anything about it due to the worry of the cost. The Wardens volunteered to do some research on cameras and found a suitable package for the church provided by Maplin Electronics. Maplin's Manager Paul Firth was very willing to help and agreed to provide the church with cameras at a greatly reduced price with free installation. The discreet units are now in place and are monitoring activity around the building.

Maplin's have given the wardens a sample camera to show other interested parties. Anyone wishing to see how the system works should contact the Wardens on 01274 731678.

MORI thanks

Many thanks to the 500 residents who helped with the recent MORI survey. We will be showing the results in detail in the next issue. In the meantime if you want to see the results of the survey ring Bradford Trident on 431441.

MC3 takes to the road

The new MC3 bus service was launched on November 1 and is now running regular services through the area. The service will run initially for two years and then will be subject to review depending on how busy it is. So it's use it or lose it! The full timetable and route is on the back page of this issue.

Elderly enjoy Christmas Dinner

Over 100 elderly residents of the Trident area gathered on 4 December for the annual Christmas Dinner.

Held at Dixon's CTC it was the eleventh year the event has been held. Whilst the food and transport was paid for by Bradford Trident the contents of the goody bags received by all the guests were donated by generous local businesses.

Pictured on the right with some of the guests present are businessmen Gerry Yates and Ian Pruchniewicz who have been involved in the organisation of the event since the start.
